

Death Of Grover Cleveland

Weston, N.J., June 24.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland died suddenly at his home here at 8.40 this morning. While his death was unexpected, he had been ill for a number of weeks. Mrs. Cleveland was particularly cheerful last night over her husband's condition. He was apparently in good spirits and his health better than it had been for some time. For a number of years he had suffered from a similar attack of sickness. Last year he became ill in the spring and did not recover his health till September. Heart failure complicated with pneumonia and colera were the direct causes of his death.

Cleveland was the son of Richard Falley Cleveland, a Presbyterian minister. His mother was Anne Neal, daughter of a Baltimore merchant. His advantages in early life were few, for the times of his youth were difficult, and even a minister's son could not clearly see the opportunities.

As a boy he worked as a clerk in a store, aiding in the support of his family. His two brothers were soldiers in the Civil War. He could not enlist, he went to a nautical school, and worked many years afterwards to pay him. At seventeen he was an assistant teacher in a school for the blind in New York city, and then he went to Buffalo. Here he secured a position as copyist

Venezuela Too Fresh

Washington, June 23.—The state department today received official notification of the departure of Jacob Sieper, secretary of the American legation at Caracas, Venezuela. Mr. Sieper's departure leaves the United States without diplomatic representation in the South American republic. The affairs of the legation will be looked after by a representative of the Brazilian legation. For the past three years since questions between the United States and Venezuela first arose, Minister Russell has been unable to get any satisfaction from the Venezuelan government. The diplomatic representative in that country may remain in the representative of the Venezuelan government withdrawing. The legation had been received at the Venezuelan legation last night. The present situation in diplomatic terms known as a state of expectancy. The questions in dispute between this country and Venezuela have been in the hands of the solicitor of the state department for the past few days, but no satisfaction has been given the American representative by President Castro.

Washington June 24.—The Venezuelan situation has become so acute that the withdrawal by United States of its legation at Caracas appears to be a possibility. The next step to be taken by President Roosevelt. Developments today show clearly that Castro has instructed his minister here to remain in the country and to give passports to the United States. He will be able to say that the preliminary aggressive steps were taken by the United States. The state department is smoothing over the present tense situation by declaring that there is nothing unusual in it and pointing out that France has twice withdrawn her minister without necessarily declaring war.

CERTAINLY VISIT THE WEST (Telegram)

If Henri Bourassa and Armand Lavergne decide to pay Western Canada a visit they will certainly be warmly welcomed. If they have any message to deliver to the people out here, they will be assured of a cordial reception.
Gentles and strokes always demand respect, fearless independence and honesty of purpose, freedom of action. And these two young representatives of the Nationalist party of Quebec seem to be endowed with the necessary qualities in large chunks.

Farly apart from the message they may have for the people of the west the visit will be one for which Messrs.
Bourassa and Lavergne will have no regrets by reason of what they themselves will learn. There is no Canadian dignity big enough and well informed enough to attempt to fight the battle of Canada, who has not traveled his Canada at least from east to west.

However high the ideals of these be politicians, they must necessarily be limited. Unless they are founded upon a knowledge of the whole Dominion, and no description in the world can convey to the mind of man the extent and possibilities of this western country like a personal visit of inspection. Messrs Bourassa and Lavergne will find also in the west in addition to the material resources that will interest and educate them, a class of men, surprising large, who are in accord with the chariot wheels of the political party, but who are nevertheless strong partisans and keen politicians, and whose very strength in their demands for honest, clean, progressive government, lies in the fact that they will be loyal to their friends who give them the kind of an administration they want.

The machine liberals of the west are not likely to take any very great trouble to make a warm welcome for the two brilliant young French Canadians who have been a thorn in the side of their eastern brethren of the faith, and who promise to develop in to a word that shall cut off the quartet of crooked crocodiles. But in the end, they will find other Liberal plenty of them, too, who are sick unto death of the methods and record of the administration at Ottawa, and who will welcome a change in the interests of the country.

They will find that a great many of the western people have other ideas of public life than those exemplified in the crew that means the Ottawa ship of state at the present time.
They will find people who are sanguine of the possibilities of this minion, proud of the resources of their country and generous with respect to its development, but whose indignation knows no bounds as they regard the graft and plunder that is making a few people millionaires at the expense of the future and is squandering the resources of land, timber, sea and mine, without regard to the interests of the people of this and future generations.

It seems to be the accepted policy of the Liberal press as a whole to sneer at Messrs. Bourassa and Lavergne who are described as mere visionary agitators and pictured as disastrous fanatics whose only interest in public life is self aggrandizement at whatever cost. The course they have adopted is attributed to the most selfish motives, but just think for a moment of the enormities that would have been passed upon them had they been Conservatives and broken away on a matter of principle from the Conservative party. Why, the whole language would have been rammed for terms of approbation and encouragement.
They would have been pictured as high minded patriots, enlightened statesmen, illustrious sons of independence.
Nothing would have been too good for them and the honors the Liberals would be willing to heap upon them would be something awful to contemplate.

Dependable Drugs

Did it ever strike you how important it is that you should bring your prescription to a dependable drug store after you have consulted the best doctor you know? At a dependable drug store the best goods can be had without demanding them and you can depend that the goods are right ly kept, handled and dispensed.
The interests of the customers must be guarded at every point even to the price at which the goods are sold. We can justly claim that our store is dependable and will stand the closest scrutiny in every detail.

Duncan's Condition
Powders

FOR HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP
HOGS.

On horses it acts marvellously; it gives a good appetite, a glossy coat, a loose hide a healthy appearance and purifies the blood; even during hard work they gain flesh and spirit. It cannot be equalled for building up

The Conservative Platform

As Enunciated at Halifax and Other Places by Mr. R. L. Borden, Leader of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition in the House of Commons.

1. Honest appropriation and expenditure of public money in the public interest.

2. Appointment of public officials upon consideration of capacity and personal character and not of party service alone.

3. More effective provisions to punish bribery and fraud at elections, to ensure thorough publicity as to expenditures by political organizations, to prevent the accumulation of campaign funds for corrupt purposes and to prohibit contributions thereto by corporations, contractors and promoters, to expedite hearing of election petitions and to prevent collusive arrangements for the withdrawal or compromise thereof, to provide for a thorough investigation to corrupt practices and if necessary to appoint an independent prosecuting officer to enforce the laws so amended.

4. A thorough and complete reformation of the laws relating to the Civil Service so that future appointments shall be made by an independent commission seeing upon the report of examiners after competitive examination.

5. Such reform in the selecting of members of the Senate as will make that chamber a more useful and representative body.

6. A more careful selection of the sources from which immigration shall be sought, a more rigid inspection of immigrants and the abolition of the bounty system except under very special circumstances and for the purpose of obtaining particularly disadvantaged immigrants.

7. The management and development of the public domain (in which it is to be included great national franchises) for the public benefit and under such conditions that a respectable proportion of the increment of value arising therefrom shall inure to the people.

8. The operation and management of our government railways by an independent commission free from partisan control or interference.

9. Development and improvement of our national waterways the equipment of national ports, the improvement of transportation facilities and subsequent reduction of freight rates between the place of production and market, whether at home or abroad and the establishment of a thorough system of cold storage.

10. The re-organization of the present railway commission as a public utilities commission with wider power and more extended jurisdiction, so as to establish a more efficient control over all corporations owning or operating public utilities or invested with franchises of a national character.

11. The establishment after due investigation of a system of national telegraphs and telephones under conditions which shall be just to capital already invested in those enterprises.

12. The improvement of existing postal facilities, especially in newly developed portions of the country, and inauguration, after proper inquiry as to cost, of a system of free rural mail delivery.

13. A fiscal policy which will promote the production within Canada of all useful articles that can be advantageously manufactured from or by means of natural resources, having due regard to the interests of the consumer as well as to the just claims of our wage-earning population.

14. The promotion by negotiation and other expedients means of a system of mutual preferential trade within the Empire.

15. The restoration of the public lands to the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan upon fair terms.

16. The unimpeded maintenance of all powers of self-government which have been conferred upon the Provinces of Canada under the constitution.
